THE following is M. Witte's private opinion publicly expressed of our versatile president: "From a moral standpoint, the president of the United States is a statesman of large calibre. Born in a time when politicians are more children of their century than of their history, he owes his high position, which he fills his personal qualities as revealed in actions requiring decision and clear vision. The world recognizes this. When one speaks with President Roosevelt, he charms through the elevation of his thoughts and through that transparent philosophy which permeates his judgment. He has an ideal and strives for higher aims than a commonplace existence presents. In the stubborn struggles of our day, men like Mr. Roosevelt have no leisure, for they are the danger line."

It lies 1½ miles West of McKinney and joins the lands of Sam Owens, K. L. Tanner, A. B. McKinney and Col. Hall Anderson. It fronts upon the turnpike and Southern R. R. and in sight of a school-house. A bargain for some one. Terms very easy.
